

The Education Times of the Times of India dated 30th May, interviewed Ms. Gemma M. D'Cunha. The topic was, naturally, Public Speaking & Personality Enhancement. The article was very well received.

Some of the batches of the Public Speaking & Personality Enhancement course start a speakers club, after the course. This is to keep in touch and to hone their skills. The batch of June 2010 had formed a club, and calls themselves, "The Spokesperson." Meetings are in progress and so is their progress in becoming better speakers. The batch of June 2011 calls themselves, "Shakers & Speakers." Contacts are on Face book.

8. I have taken the Voice Empowerment sessions very seriously, since I lack a strong modulated voice. This affected clarity in my speech. The exercises were well demonstrated, and I promise to do them everyday for 10 minutes. I am going to record my voice before I start and after 6 months to observe the improvement, as suggested. Thank you madam.
