

Starting
19th June, 2008

Xavier Institute of Communications

hosts

Creative Writing Workshop

conducted by
Renu Balakrishnan

"The chief aim of the writer is to be understood." (John Dryden)

Who will benefit from this Workshop?

This workshop attempts to realize the writer in each of us. It will help people who want to improve their creative writing skills in writing fiction and nonfiction.

Course Content

Session 1; Story structure in fiction and nonfiction writing – complication / resolution; Session 2: Plot; Session 3: Narrative design and voice; Session 4: Character and Dialogue; Session 5: Setting; Session 6: Tips on writing by a published author.

Programme

6 sessions of 2 hours each, starting 6:30pm at the Xavier Institute of Communications on June 19, 26; July 3, 10, 17, 24, 2008, Fee: Rs. 3000/-

Registration and payment at Xavier Institute of Communications.

Please collect reading and writing assignments for the first class at registration.

Telephone enquiries 2262 1366/ 1639 / 2877 or E-mail: renu@rediffmail.com

Renu Balakrishnan wrote book reviews for Elan Magazine and has conducted writing workshops for teachers in schools and colleges. She has attended a Masters in Education course at Oxford Brookes University, UK, and Creative Writing programmes at the New School, New York. Her interests include releasing the creative spirit in people.

Xavier Institute Of Communications (XIC)

St. Xavier's College, Mumbai 400 001

Tel. (022) 2262 1366 / 1639 / 2877 Fax: 2265 8546

E-mail: admin@xaviercomm.org Web-site: www.xaviercomm.org